St Ives Hakes v Pirates Amateurs

Saturday 19th March 2016

KO 2:30p.m.

at

St Ives Recreation Ground

Welcome to Alexandra Road for the latest round in the Tribute Cornwall & Devon League. Today our opponents are local rivals from Penzance and Newlyn, who we entertain for the first time since September 2012. With the advent of league rugby in 1987 and Pirates turning professional, the regular fixtures dried up. Mounts Bay RFC brought some hope for local players, but did not last or fulfil initial expectations. In 2006 Pirates Amateurs were created as a second team. They became an independent club in 2009-10 when they were invited to join the Cornwall League. As runners up, they gained a place in the C&D league by beating Wessex.

St Ives and Pirates were in the C&D league together in season 2012-13, when St Ives gained promotion. Pirates have maintained a mid-table position during this time. This season could be their highest placing. Pirates have several games 'in hand'. Their last match was away to Tavistock where they gained a bonus point win 31:10. With no games since then they should have an injury free squad eager to play. Conditions should favour an open, entertaining game. St Ives know they must win well to keep promotion hopes in their own hands. Third place Withycombe have a difficult trip to Plymouth Argam, but it is doubtful that they will slip up again after last week's defeat to Plymstock.

Our match official for today is Stephen Avenell. We hope he enjoys his time with us. Please refrain from any abuse of our officials who offer their time freely. The next home match at The Recreation Ground is on Easter Monday in the re-scheduled against Newquay Hornets. Please join us for a drink and a chat in the clubhouse after the match.
