St Ives v St Austell

Saturday 6th January 2018

KO 2:30 p.m.

St Ives Recreation Ground

After the relatively long break in proceedings, with no rugby over Christmas and New Year, the Tribute Western Counties West league is back in business. Here at The Rec there could be no better contest: a local derby, two Cornish sides, first verses second. St Ives club officials welcome all spectators and wish you all a happy, healthy and hopeful New Year.

St Ives were found wanting when these two sides met at Tregorrick Park in September, the home side producing an emphatic display, with Cav Boyer kicking every point available, to fund a score line of 29:3. St Ives never really showed up on that day and is now clearly a different side. Like St Austell, The Hakes have lost only once since then, which is why they share promotion places. The difference of four points is down to bonus points, the home side having taken try bonuses in twice as many games.

Last year the result went to the home side with a score of 33-19 on 28th January. Such a victory would see St Ives consolidate first place. Equally, a win for St Austell would close the gap completely. The game is afoot!

Supporters will be delighted to see the return of Tom Nicholas from injury. There is also a return for Lewis Thomas, who was such a regular performer last season with 24 appearances.

The referee for today's contest is Al Denham. We trust he is given due respect from players and spectators alike.

Do drop into the club house after the match for a drink and a chat.
