St Ives v Okehampton

Saturday 29th March 2014

KO 3:00 p.m.

St Ives Recreation Ground

Today we welcome Okehampton to The Recreation Ground at Alexandra Road as St Ives face a massive relegation struggle in the closing stages of this season's Tribute Western Counties West league. While we may all feel St Ives are 'too good to go down', the reality of the league table following Bude's defeat of Torquay Athletic last Saturday, means that Rob Elloway and Tom Riley's squad need results. A win today is crucial. This has to be the response to our game in hand over Bude, even though they have a difficult set of fixtures in front of them to conclude their season.

After six straight loses, The Okes have rallied to gain two recent victories to push themselves just outside the relegation zone. They will want to bounce back from a 69:0 defeat at Ivybridge in their last match on 15th March. St Ives might have hoped for better at Wellington last week going down 37:8. The Hakes have this opportunity to get a win in March; having suffered four loses to date. The coaches have selected a strong squad with few injury problems. Only the much improved Tom Chandler is missing.

I will leave you with the fixture lists for each of the clubs involved and you can consider the various outcomes.
